Actions to stop doing: As the deadline approaches we need to stop working on superficial features and prioritize core functionality. Overall we are doing a good job with this but it is important to continue to have in mind.

Actions to start doing: We need to continue completing features fully and following the agile methodology. It is easy to be complacent and only partially complete new features. We have been doing a good job of following acceptance criteria, but it is important to continue doing this.

Actions to keep doing: The team should continue to collaborate and work as a unit. We have been doing much better at talking and acting cohesively than we had in the past.

Work completed: We completed all tasks from our sprint 4 plan.

Work not completed: None.
